OSU Through the 20th Century

If a graduate of Oregon Agricultural College from the early 20th century were transported in time to the present day, he or she would scarcely recognize Oregon State University at the close of the century. Oregon State has been transformed from a small agriculturally oriented college in a somewhat remote portion of the western United States to a Carnegie I research university with internationally renowned programs. During the 1899-1900 academic year, Oregon State's enrollment was 405 students (398 from Oregon); its faculty consisted of 28 members. At the end of this century, OSU's enrollment is approaching 15,000 students (from every state and nearly 100 countries); the faculty consists of 2,200 members. Listed below are the major highlights of OSU's history in the 20th century.*

1901 — First Branch Experiment Station establish at Union (15 miles southeast of La Grande).

1904 — Approval given by the Board of Regents to allow international students to attend the college for the first time.

1907 — William Jasper Kerr appointed by the Board of Regents as the sixth president of the Agricultural College of the State of Oregon. Kerr, who served as president until 1932, led the college through a 25-year period of growth in terms of students, faculty, academic and research programs, and physical facilities. First professional degree conferred; an M.S. degree in engineering.

1910 — First reference to "Beavers" as an athletic team name.

1928 — Memorial Union, first privately funded building on campus, completed. Building dedicated June 1, 1929.

1929 — The Oregon State Board of Higher Education assumed control of all state (public) institutions of higher education in Oregon on July 1 after the Legislative Assembly approved the Oregon Unification Bill, which provided for the unification of the state-supported institutions of higher education under a single board.

1935 — First Ph.D degrees conferred (three in Science and one in agriculture) during the 65th Commencement.

1941-1945 — During WWII, Oregon State commissioned more cadets than any other non-military institution in the United States and trained 4,812 servicemen as part of the Army Specialized Training Program.

1945 — Faculty Council met for the first time on March 9 (it became the Faculty Senate in 1956).

1959 — School of Humanities and Social Sciences established.

1961 — First oceanographic research vessel, the 80-foot Acona, acquired. It was the first United States academic vessel specifically for oceanographic research. On March 6, Governor Mark Hatfield signed into law the legislative act that changed the name of the institution to Oregon State University.

1962 — Oregon State University quarterback Terry Baker won the Heisman Trophy, the first west coast player to win the award. Baker was also honored by Sports Illustrated as its Sportsman of the Year.

1968 — OSU was one of three universities in the nation selected to take part in the new Sea Grant program. Black Student Union organized and the Lonnie B. Harris Black Cultural Center opened. OSU celebrated its centennial.

1970 — First Vice President position established -- Vice President for Research & Graduate Studies.

1981 — Warren Kronstad and his research team introduced Stephens Wheat. This soft white wheat is now the major variety grown in the Pacific Northwest.

1986 — OSU graduate Linus Pauling (the only two-time Nobel Prize winner) designated OSU as the repository of his papers and medals.

1999 — The Valley Library was dedicated in May after a three-year, $40 million expansion program.

Preface

The Office of Budgets and Planning is proud to present the 11th publication of the OSU Fact Book. Our office continues its commitment to support the university community and the public's understanding of Oregon State University by collecting and providing quality information. The Fact Book is intended to encourage and provide a basis for insightful discussion about topics such as the university's history, students, faculty, budgets, and facilities. In this regard, we are committed to continue supporting your requests for more information and institutional analysis concerning the university.

Realizing that informational needs vary among individuals, our office publishes three annual publications in addition to the OSU Fact Book. The OSU Facts-At-A-Glance is a pocket-size summary fact book designed for quick and easy reference and will be available soon. The OSU Graduation Summary provides statistical information about OSU students who received degrees and is printed after spring term. The OSU Enrollment Summary provides statistical information about all enrolled students and is printed after fall term. All of our publications are available on OSU's website at http://osu.orst.edu/Dept/budgets/IR/info_resource.html.

We wish to thank all those who helped us prepare and produce this year's OSU Fact Book and hope it will benefit you during the coming year. As always, we encourage readers to provide comments and suggestions as to how we can improve our publications. Please contact me or any other member of our staff with your suggestions.

AN ACT to secure the Location of the Lands donated by Congress to the State for an Agricultural College, and to establish such College.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

Section 1. That J. F. Miller, J. H. Dauthitt, and J. C. Avery are hereby constituted a Board of Commissioners, with power--

1. To locate all the lands to which this State is entitled by Act of Congress, for the purpose of establishing an Agricultural College; and, as soon as such locations are made, to report the same to the Secretary of State;
2. To take into consideration the further organization and perfecting of a plan for the permanent establishment of such College in accordance with the requirements of the Act of Congress making such donation, and report the same to the Governor by the first day of August 1870;
3. To fill all vacancies in the College by appointment that may occur in any Senatorial district under the provisions of this Act.

Section 2. That until other provisions are made, the Corvallis College is hereby designated and adopted as the Agricultural College, in which all students sent under the provisions of this Act shall be instructed in all the arts, sciences, and other studies in accordance with the requirements of the Act of Congress making such donation.

Section 3. Each State Senator is hereby authorized and empowered to select one student, not less than sixteen years of age, who shall be received by the Faculty of said College, and instructed by them in the manner provided in this Act, for the space of two years, unless such student shall be discharged for misconduct; provided, however, that this Act shall not be binding until the Trustees of said College shall adopt a resolution, and file a certified copy thereof with the Secretary of State, assenting to and agreeing on their part to faithfully carry out the provisions of this Act.

Section 4. Upon the certificate of the President of the Corvallis College that any student so appointed is in attendance at school, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of State, at the middle of each quarter, to draw his warrant upon the State Treasurer in favor of the said College for the sum of $11.25 for each student so attending. And it shall be the duty of the State Treasurer to pay such warrants out of any funds in his hands not otherwise appropriated, and a separate account of such funds shall be kept, and designated the "Agricultural College funds."

Section 5. All funds paid out in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing sections, with interest thereon at ten per cent, per annum, shall be refunded to the State Treasurer from the first interest that shall accrue from the proceeds of the sale of any lands located for said College.

Section 6. The Board of Commissioners hereby created shall make all the reports required by law, and shall each receive a salary of five dollars per day for the number of days actually employed, to be paid upon the sworn statement of such Commissioner.

WHEREAS, It appears that, unless an agricultural college is provided by law at this session of the Legislature, the grant by Congress will be lost, therefore this Act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Notes: ✓ Option programs are listed if (1) they are recognized by OUS, or (2) they have an OSU "Major" code number and a course designator.

✓ CIP code numbers have been reviewed and changed according to the revised U.S. Department of Education "Classification of Instructional Programs"; 1990 edition.

OSU Extension Service

The OSU Extension Service is the University's off-campus, informal education link with the people of Oregon. Extension Service programs help people solve problems and improve skills in the areas of agriculture, energy, forestry, family and community development, sea grant and 4-H youth development.

Leadership for Extension Service programs is provided through assigned academic colleges. Leadership for the Extension Service is provided by the Dean and Director of the OSU Extension Service. All Extension Service faculty, county agents, and specialists have academic appointments in appropriate colleges.

Some 175 Extension Service faculty are located in more than 40 offices around the state, including at least one office in each of Oregon's counties. In addition, more than 100 faculty are located in OSU colleges where they work side by side with laboratory and classroom colleagues. These professionals are the eyes and ears of the University, working closely with Oregonians in all walks of life. They provide programs to local groups based on identified needs. They listen to what Oregonians are saying and provide feedback to the University for determining research needs.

OSU Extension Service has been a part of the University for more than 80 years. It was officially created in 1911 by action of the Oregon Legislature, and recognized nationally in 1914 by the Smith-Lever Act. Funding for Extension Service programs comes from federal, state, and county government, and from fees, grants, and contacts.

Distance and Continuing Education

The goal of OSU Distance and Continuing Education is to provide support and leadership, with internal and external partners, for delivery of academic offerings throughout Oregon, the nation, and the world to place- and time-bound adults in partnership with community colleges, Oregon University System (OUS) institutions, other universities, communities, businesses and industries.

Each term during the academic year, more than 900 individuals throughout Oregon and around the world take OSU courses without ever coming to Corvallis. These classes are available via the internet, video, independent student and on-site at locations throughout Oregon. During the past two years, access to programs for students who may be place- or time-bound has increased significantly. This is reflected in an enrollment increase in OSU Statewide programs of 47% between the 1996-97 and 1998-99 academic years.

OSU programs are offered in cooperation with community college partners, Oregon University System institutions, private institutions, and out-of-state institutions such as Washington State University and the University of Idaho. Many of the programs are approved for statewide delivery, others at individual or group sites. At the undergraduate level, OSU offers degree completion programs or "2+2" programs. Students complete two years of community college course work followed by two years of upper division course work from OSU, often taken using distance education technologies. At the graduate level, many of the programs are offered in partnership with PSU, UO, Oregon Graduate Institute, or OHSU.

Each year, OSU faculty offer courses in 35 areas including almost every college at OSU. Courses include art, agriculture, education, engineering, forestry, philosophy, math, languages, and the sciences. Faculty design courses, curricula, and degree programs and work with Distance and Continuing Education and Communication Media Center staff to develop and deliver these courses at a distance. OSU typically offers over 140 courses, of these, more than 30 classes are currently offered entirely on the Web.

Distance and Continuing Education provides continuing education and professional development opportunities throughout Oregon. Distance education staff work with individual businesses to develop needs assessments and offer programs or customized courses to meet their needs. OSU offers individual businesses training in supervision, human relations and management. An important focus of OSU's professional development programs assists teachers in maintaining licensure by providing opportunities for professional development. Non-credit programs are developed for OSU alumni as part of OSU's Alumni College (i.e. "Classes without Quizzes").

OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY

International Study Abroad and Student Exchange Programs

1998-99

Opportunities for students to study abroad continue to expand at OSU. There are now 38 programs in 19 countries. A new policy on international exchange, implemented in 1992 by a faculty Study Abroad Advisory Committee (SAAC), encourages departments to initiate and administer international exchange and study abroad programs specific to their academic units. The purpose of the new policy is to encourage faculty initiatives and to expand the diversity of academic programs and geographic locations available through study abroad and student/faculty exchange programs. Study Abroad and Student Exchange Programs at OSU are defined as Category A or Category B programs.

Category A: The Office of International Education continues to administer programs with a broad scope involving students from a number of academic units. These include the Oregon State University System (OUS) programs in China, Ecuador, France, Germany, Hungary, Japan, Korea, Mexico, and Thailand. Also included are the Northwest Council on Study Abroad (NCSA) programs in Angers, France; Athens, Greece; Vienna, Austria; London, England; Macerata and Siena, Italy; and Oviedo, Spain. Programs in Bathurst, Australia; Sussex, England; and the Former Soviet Union are open to all students and are administered in the Office of International Education.

Category B: Programs involving students from one department or college will be the responsibility of that academic unit with the Office of International Education providing assistance, support, and budget review. This new policy has already generated several new programs and administrative changes. The College of Engineering has year-long programs for engineering students at the University of Nottingham, the University of Sussex, and the University of Mexico. College of Science students may spend a year at the University of Lancaster, the University of Sussex or the University of Wales. Agriculture students have programs at the University of British Columbia and at Lincoln College in New Zealand. A College of Liberal Arts program in Guadalajara, Mexico places education students in bilingual schools for field experience, and Spanish language majors work in language schools. The College of Business has programs at Agder College in Kristiansand, Norway and Aarhus and Copenhagen, Denmark.

Global Graduates Internships

Global Graduates: The Oregon International Internship Program enables OSU students from all fields of study to integrate an international internship experience into their degree program. Students gain valuable practical work experience while at the same time perfecting language proficiency and their ability to work in a different cultural context. Internships can vary in length, from three to six months, and in format, to include a domestic internship or a study abroad program. Internship placements are in a wide range of countries. Language requirements vary depending on the specific position responsibilities of the internship.

University Honors College

The goal of the University Honors College is to foster an integrated and stimulating education experience that promotes active learning. Shared discovery and tutorial-style interaction for our shared students will contribute benefits for all members of the OSU community. Beginning in their first year writing class and continuing through their capstone projects, UHC students are presented with opportunities to engage in original work and integrative conceptualization. Expectations for all course work include collaborative exploration, active inquiry, shared responsibilities, attention to communications skills, and cumulative effort.

Co-curricular activities are an important aspect of the UHC experience and are predicated on an assumption that mutual leveraging will enhance a sense of community and reinforce the ethics of leadership that are integral to participation learning. The presence of the McNary residence hall also fosters a sense of membership via the shared rituals of residence life.

The faculty experience is also crucial to the long-run success of the UHC and to the faculty members' professional satisfaction. Interacting with competent and highly motivated UHC students is not only rewarding but also stimulating. Opportunities to nurture inquiry and perhaps gain valuable research collaborators outweigh the modest remuneration received.

The UHC is intended to provide an enriched educational environment for highly motivated and high achieving students drawn from the panoply of OSU majors. UHC students are expected to be active participants in their own learning and to participate in the community of scholars that is UHC. To the extent possible, UHC classes are intended to be interactive, intercultural, and interdisciplinary and support an experience that is cumulative and cooperative. The goal of the UHC is to provide a model instructional/learning agenda while respecting the diversity of student characteristics in all their guises. The UHC recognizes that personal initiative is essential for a meaningful education.

Intercollegiate Athletics 1998-99

Oregon State's 15 sports are recognized at the Division I level of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). In 1915, OSU became a charter member of the Pacific Coast (Athletic) Conference, now the Pacific-10 Conference.

Women's Sports

Basketball

Head Coach: Judy Spoelstra
Participants: 15 Scholarships: 14
Facility: Gill Coliseum Seats: 10,400
Championships: Nor-Pac: 1983; Region Nine: 1979, 1981.

Fourth-year head coach Judy Spoelstra had perhaps the youngest team in the Pacific-10 during the 1998-99 season. The Beavers started three freshmen in every game, and another rookie made the starting lineup midway through the year. The foursome showed great things to come for the OSU squad, as the rookies combined to score 25.1 points per game and led OSU in steals and assists. With a year of experience under their belts, the group will look to take OSU back to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1996.

Crew

Head Coach: Charlie Owen
Participants: 71 Scholarships: 17
Facility: Stevens Crew House

The women's crew team enjoyed another season ranked among the nation's top collegiate crew teams. The Beavers were ranked in the top 15 throughout the early part of the season and are looking forward to postseason competition. Former Beaver standout Amy Martin earned a spot on the U.S. National Team and competed at the World Championships for the second straight year, this time earning a bronze medal at the 1998 World Championships. Martin is the second OSU women's crew alum to compete in the World Championships, after Holly (Kays) Brunkow raced at the 1987, 1989 and 1990 competitions.

Golf

Head Coach: Rise Lakowske
Participants: 10 Scholarships: 6
Facility: Trysting Tree Golf Club 7,104 yards, par 72

The OSU women's golf team earned its sixth-straight trip to the NCAA West Regionals under ninth-year coach Rise Lakowske. Senior Kathleen Takaishi and Anjeanette Dabbs were both named All-Pac-10 honorable mention selections. Takaishi led the Beavers with a 76.0 round average. She finished second in three tournaments in 1998-99, highlighted by a school record 213 total score at the Wahine Invitational. Dabbs, who suffered a season-ending shoulder injury, was averaging 76.3 through six tournaments. She had two top-five outings and tied an OSU record with a round of 69 at the Northwest Invitational.

Gymnastics

Head Coach: Tanya Chaplin
Participants: 14 Scholarships: 12
Facility: Gill Coliseum Seats: 9,000
Championships: Nor-Pac: 1983, 1985; Pac-10: 1991, 1992, 1994, 1995; Regional: 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1985, 1988, 1991, 1992, 1994.

The Beavers had one of their more successful seasons overall, but a new national qualifying format kept OSU away from the NCAA Championships for the third straight year. Second-year coach Tanya Chaplin was named Pac-10 Coach of the Year after her team set a school record with a 197.400 at the Pac-10 Championships, where OSU gymnasts won every event. Lara Degenhardt was Pac-10 champion on floor after becoming just the second Beaver to score a 10.0 on the event, and Danae Phillips won bars, also with a 10.0. Megan Murphy-Barcroft was the league champion on beam and vault. Degenhardt and Murphy-Barcroft also advanced to the NCAA Championships as individual qualifiers.

Soccer

Head Coach: Steve Fennah
Participants: 21 Scholarships: 9
Facility: Lorenz Field* Seats: 2,000

Oregon State showed plenty of signs that the Beavers are returning to a competitive level of play. Under first-year coach Steve Fennah, the 1998 Beavers tripled their win total from a year ago and finished ninth in the Pac-10 standings after finishing last in 1997. Senior Lindy Brown ranked eighth in the league in goals and was tied for ninth in points, and sophomore goalkeeper Elizabeth Pease was third in the conference for saves. Eight Beavers were Pac-10 All-Academic selections.

Softball

Head Coach: Kirk Walker
Participants: 16 Scholarships: 12
Facility: Ropes-Fetrow Field Seats: 500

Under fifth-year coach Kirk Walker, the Oregon State softball team had the best season in school history. The Beavers recorded their first winning season since 1984 and set a school record for wins in the process. The team rewrote the school record books, with more than 15 single-season and career records being set. Junior Tarrah Beyster became the school's first NFCA National Player of the Week when she was recognized on April 21, and senior Jodi Chmielewski became the first OSU player to be drafted by the Women's Pro Softball League. Chmielewski, the only Beaver who had 200 hits for her career, was drafted by the Tampa Bay FireStix with the draft's 14th overall pick.

Swimming

Head Coach: Mariusz Podkoscienly
Participants: 19 Scholarships: 9
Facility: Osborn Aquatic Center Seats: 650

Oregon State's swimmers continue to improve under third-year coach Mariusz Podkoscienly, a nine-time All-American and two-time Olympian. The 1998-99 swim team turned in several of the top times in school history. Freshman Kristen Martinec set a school record in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 57.20, and the Beavers made 37 other entries to the all-time top 10 times in various events. All but one swimmer on the 98-99 squad was a freshman or sophomore, so the future of OSU swimming looks bright as the Beavers continue to gain Pac-10 experience.

Volleyball

Head Coach: Nancy Somera
Participants: 15 Scholarships: 12
Facility: Gill Coliseum Seats: 10,400

The Beavers battled through the 1998 season with one of their youngest teams in recent years. With 11 freshmen and sophomores and no seniors, the OSU squad was limited in experience. Junior Selina Scoble was named an All-Pac-10 honorable mention selection after leading the league in blocking. Scoble, who also set an OSU single-season record for blocking, will take next year off to train with the Australian National Team in preparation for the 2000 Olympics. The rest of the '98 Beavers will be back on the court in 1999, but OSU will have a new coach. Nancy Somera, formerly an assistant coach at USC, took over the program after Jeff and Marty Mozzochi stepped down in December. Jeff had been the head coach of the team for six years and had more wins than any other Beaver volleyball coach.

Intercollegiate Athletics

1998-99

Men's Sports

Baseball

Head Coach: Pat Casey
Participants: 38 Scholarships: 9.9
Facility: Goss Stadium Seats: 1,500
Championships: Pac-10 Northern Division: 1938, 1940, 1943, 1951, 1952, 1958, 1962, 1963, 1975, 1981, 1982, 1984, 1994.

Beaver baseball began a new era with the opening of Goss Stadium at Coleman Field. The $2-million dollar project added the first permanent grandstand to the field the Beavers have called home since 1907. Other highlights from the season included a strong effort on the mound from B. R. Cook, who earned National Pitcher of the Week honors once and Pac-10 Pitcher of the Week honors twice during the season. Joe Gerber also had a strong season offensively and put together one of the longest hitting streaks in OSU history.

Basketball

Head Coach: Eddie Payne
Participants: 14 Scholarships: 13
Facility: Gill Coliseum Seats: 10,400
Championships: Pac-10: 1916, 1933, 1947, 1949, 1955, 1958, 1966, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1984, 1990; Regional: 1949, 1963.

The Beavers turned in a 13-14 record for their best finish since the 1994-95 season. OSU lost just two games at Ralph Miller Court and turned in victories over nationally-ranked Arizona, UCLA and Stanford. The Beavers were one of six schools to defeat three Top 25 teams during the 1998-99 season. Sophomore Deaundra Tanner was named to the Pac-10 All-Conference Team and sophomore Josh Steintal was named to the league's All-Newcomer team. OSU expects to have all five of its starters return to the team next year. The last time OSU returned five starters was 1989-90, also the last time OSU went to the NCAA Tournament.

Crew

Head Coach: Dave Reischman
Participants: 47 Scholarships: 0.72
Facility: Stevens Crew House

Dave Reischman's men's crew team looks to make its fifth straight appearance at the IRA Championships. The Beavers have been ranked nationally all season and are looking to have a strong postseason. Leading the way for OSU has been senior Andy Legard, an honorable mention All-American and two-time first team All-Pac-10 selection. Legard trained at the U.S. Pre-Elite Team camp last summer. OSU crew alumni have had success after their collegiate careers ended; in all, 12 former OSU men's rowers earned spots on various U.S. national teams.

Football

Head Coach: Dennis Erickson
Participants: 96 Scholarships: 85
Facility: Parker Stadium Seats: 35,547
Championships: Pac-10: 1941, 1956, 1964; Rose Bowl: 1942; other Rose Bowl appearances: 1957, 1965; Liberty Bowl: 1962.

Under the direction of second-year coach Mike Riley, OSU's football team had its most successful season in nearly three decades. The Beavers were 5-6 for the year, marking the first time since 1971 that OSU won five games in a season. Inoke Brechterfield and Jose Cortez were named honorable mention All-Americans. Ken Simonton, who became just the fourth Beaver to rush for 1,000 yards in a season, was named a first team All-Freshmen All-America pick and quarterback Jonathan Smith was an honorable mention pick on the same team. But just when OSU appeared to have found the man to lead the Beavers to their first winning season since 1970, Riley decided to take a head coaching job with the San Diego Chargers. Mitch Barnhart announced the hiring of Dennis Erickson, who had won two national titles at Miami before heading to the NFL, to take over where Riley left off.

Golf

Head Coach: Mike Ketcham
Participants: 11 Scholarships: 4.5
Facility: Trysting Tree Golf Club 7,104 yards, par 72

The future looks bright for OSU men's golf, as Beaver freshmen John Lepak was named the Pacific-10's Freshman of the Year. Lepak also was a first team All-Pac-10 Conference selection, becoming just the second OSU men's golfer to receive first team all-league honors. The rookie led the Beavers with a 72.6 round average and had six Top 10 finishes, including first-place outing. Junior teammate Dustin Wayne, who averaged 74.0 shots per round, was named honorable mention All-Pac-10. OSU finished ninth at the Pacific-10 Championships and is vying for a spot at the NCAA Regional Tournament.

Soccer

Head Coach: Dana Taylor
Participants: 24 Scholarships: 9
Facility: Lorenz Field* Seats: 2,000
Championships: Northwest Collegiate Conference: 1990.

OSU's men's soccer saw the end of an era as Jimmy Conway, the only coach the program had seen in its 11-year history, announced his resignation. Conway posted a 97-89-13 record at OSU and was 7-10-1 in his final season. Senior Fredrik Kummernes was named a second team All-Mountain Pacific Sports Federation selection. Junior goalkeeper Bryan Hill was fifth in the league in goals against average and did not allow a goal in his 510 minutes of the season. Junior Greg Howes was second in the MPSF for assists and 11th for total points. Dana Taylor, formerly an assistant coach at Creighton, was named Conway's successor.

Wrestling

Head Coach: Joe Wells

OSU Intercollegiate Athletics in the Classroom

- ✓ 1996 National Academic Champions: No university with a Division 1-A football team graduated a higher percentage of its athletes during a six-year period surveyed in the most recent edition of the NCAA's graduation rates report than Oregon State University.
- ✓ Oregon State ranks second among Pac-10 schools in freshmen graduation rate. Of the freshman student-athletes who have completed their eligibility at OSU, 92% have also earned a degree.
- ✓ Oregon State's cumulative grade point average for student-athletes in all sports is 2.82. The average has exceeded the general student body grade point average in recent years.
- ✓ In the areas of compliance and academic services, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics provided a model for the NCAA's development of computer software to handle these facets of athletic administration. The NCAA has also recognized OSU for its research on drug testing and drug education programs carried out jointly by the OSU College of Health and Human Performance and the athletic training staff. OSU was one of two schools in the country given a substantial grant to continue this work.
- ✓ Former pitcher Knute Buehler (1983-84) was the first at Oregon State to study as a Rhodes Scholar. The Willamette River crew lays claim to another OSU graduate to earn a Rhodes Scholarship, Wes Sand. Sand and Buehler are both from Roseburg, Oregon.
- ✓ The OSU gymnastics team won the National Academic Championship in both 1991 and 1992 with grade point averages of 3.6 and 3.4, respectively.

VI. BUDGETS, FINANCE AND FACILITIES

Introduction to the Financial Statements

OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY

Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 1998

Financial Reporting System

Oregon State University is an educational institution, and its major functions are instruction, research, and public service. Since OSU uses available resources to provide services rather than to make a profit, the purpose of the financial reporting system is to account for resources received, held, and used rather than to determine net income.

To do this, and to conform with generally accepted accounting principles, OSU employs principles and practices of fund accounting. This is a system that identifies and classifies resources according to their intended use or to comply with restrictions that have been placed upon them.

Oregon State University uses five primary funds and six sub-funds to account for its financial resources. Within fund groups, costs are broken down by functions, such as instruction, research, and public service; and by object of expenditure, such as salaries and wages, other personnel expenses (OPE), and services and supplies.

Current Funds

"Current Funds" is a group of three sub-funds used to account for resources available for the current operations of the University. Resources may be spent for instruction, research, public service, and related support services.

1. Current General Fund is used to account for revenue provided by state appropriations, student tuition and fees, and other unrestricted revenues.

2. Current Auxiliary Enterprise Fund is used to account for the operation of self-sustaining entities that provide goods and services to OSU students, faculty, or staff. Examples are intercollegiate athletics, residence halls, food service, parking, and student health services.

3. Current Restricted Fund is used to account for resources restricted by external donors or other outside agencies for specific current operating purposes such as sponsored research and student aid. Examples include federal or other grants and contracts and restricted gifts.

Plant Funds

"Plant Funds" is a group of three sub-funds established as an accounting method to separate fixed assets from current funds available for regular operations.

1. Unexpended Plant Fund is used to account for resources specified for acquisition and renewal and replacement of plant and equipment.

2. Retirement of Indebtedness Plant Fund is used to account for funds set aside to retire debts related to capital assets.

3. Investment in Plant Fund is used to account for the historical cost, liability payable, and ownership equity in capital assets — land, buildings, other improvements, equipment, and museum collections.

Other Funds

The Loan Fund is used to account for federal, state, or private resources available for loans to students.

The Endowment Fund is used to account for resources that are invested to produce income. Income may be restricted or unrestricted as to use and is recorded in appropriate funds to comply with the donor's terms or other designations.

The Agency Fund accounts for monies held in trust from others, to be expended at the direction of the provider.

Balance Sheet

The Balance Sheet is a statement of OSU's financial position at the end of the fiscal year. It details the assets, liabilities, and fund balances of the separate fund groups as of June 30. Assets listed support the University's activities; liabilities are sums owed to creditors; and fund balances show the aggregate net book value of the University.

Statement of Current Funds Revenues, Expenditures, and Transfers

This is a statement of financial transactions that occurred during the fiscal year. It shows details of current funds revenues by source, and expenditures and transfers by function. This statement is not intended to show a profit or loss, as in a commercial enterprise, but can be used to determine the change in fund balances resulting from current funds revenues, expenditures, and transfers for the fiscal year.

State Appropriations

Fiscal Years 1994 through 1998

The state appropriation for the Oregon University System (OUS) is set by the Oregon State Legislature based on the biennial budget request sent by the Chancellor to the Governor's Office. The request is reviewed by the Legislature's fiscal analysts and submitted to the entire legislative body. The Legislature then sets the state budget for the biennium, including the budget for OUS. The Chancellor's Office allocates biennial funds to individual institutions. On the basis of this allocation, Oregon State University develops an annual budget for state-appropriated funds for each year of the biennium.

Explanatory Notes:

1. Funding for the College of Veterinary Medicine was shifted from lottery funds to state appropriations funds. This was a $3.8 million shift.
2. New building operation and maintenance of $1.1 million were added by the legislature to cover costs in the new library addition and the new alumni center.
3. $2 million was added for the roll-forward cost of the academic salary increases given in the 1995-97 biennium.
4. $600,000 was added for the recruitment and retention of tenured instructional faculty.
5. Inflation adjustments were 2% for services and supplies, fuels and utilities, and equipment. Acquisition of library books received a 10% inflation factor.
6. Declining enrollment resulted in a reduction of state funding which, when combined with the associated tuition, resulted in a budget reduction of $5.9 million.

Oregon Agricultural Experiment Station

The Oregon Agricultural Experiment Station was organized July 1, 1888, in accordance with the Hatch Act of 1887. It now includes a central station at Corvallis and eleven branch stations in the major crop and climate areas of Oregon, assuring that its research program is close to the people and the needs of Oregon agriculture.

The station is the principal agricultural research agency in the state. Its mission is to conduct research and demonstrations in the agricultural, biological, social, and environmental sciences that contribute to the economic and social welfare of Oregon.

The station carries out its research in some 300 projects intended to offer economic, social, and environmental benefits for Oregonians. Current annual economic benefits from 90 of the Agricultural Experiment Station's research projects are estimated at more than $100 million. In the future, those annual benefits are expected to exceed $180 million. More than 50 projects have high, positive environmental benefits; another 160 are expected to have significant environmental benefits. Almost 50 projects have high or moderate social benefits for Oregonians.

The station conducts research in the following departments and colleges: Agricultural and Resource Economics, Animal Sciences, Bioresource Engineering, Botany and Plant Pathology, Chemistry, Crop and Soil Science, Entomology, Environmental and Molecular Toxicology, Fisheries and Wildlife, Food Science and Technology, Forestry, Home Economics and Education, Horticulture, Microbiology, Rangeland Resources, Statistics, and Veterinary Medicine. Research is supported in other units such as the Center for Gene Research and Biotechnology, the Environmental Health Sciences Center, the Marine Freshwater Biomedical Sciences Center, and the Western Rural Development Center.

Oregonians can learn more about the station's research through Oregon's Agricultural Progress, a magazine that reports to taxpayers in nontechnical language on station activities. Also, a publication called Educational Materials lists Agricultural Experiment Station and OSU Extension Service publications on a broad range of topics that are available to the public. Oregonians can sign up to receive Oregon's Agricultural Progress, and obtain a copy of Educational Materials by contacting Publications Orders, Department of Extension and Experiment Station Communications, 422 KAD, Oregon State University, Corvallis, Oregon 97331-2119. There is no charge.

Forest Research Laboratory

The Forest Research Laboratory is Oregon's forestry research agency; its director is the dean of OSU's College of Forestry. Established by the Oregon Legislature in 1941, the program is supported by state and federal appropriations and by research grants from public and private sources. In addition to research in campus laboratories and University forests (McDonald and Dunn), studies are conducted cooperatively in public and private forests throughout Oregon.

Activities are organized within five program areas which draw upon faculty expertise in the College of Forestry's Departments of Forest Engineering, Forest Products, Forest Resources, and Forest Science and from other departments in the University, including the Departments of Botany and Plant Pathology, Crop and Soil Science, Entomology, Fisheries and Wildlife, and the College of Engineering.

Research Program Areas

- ✓ forest regeneration
- ✓ forest ecology, culture, and productivity
- ✓ integrated protection of forests and watersheds
- ✓ forest uses, practices, and policies
- ✓ wood processing and product performance

Interdisciplinary teamwork is characteristic of many of the research projects. The program supports research of graduate students in:

- ♦ forest biometrics ♦ forest ecology ♦ forest economics ♦ forest engineering ♦ forest entomology ♦ forest hydrology ♦ forest genetics ♦ forest pathology ♦ forest physiology
- ♦ forest policy ♦ forest recreation ♦ forest soils ♦ silviculture ♦ wood science

The Forest Research Laboratory program is designed to provide information concerning the management and use of Oregon's forest resources and the operation of the state's wood-using industries. As a result of this research:

- ♦ Oregon's forests and forest-dependent industries produce more wood products, water, forage, fish, wildlife, and recreation;
- ♦ wood products are harvested and used more efficiently and appropriately;
- ♦ forests are used more intensively and effectively;
- ♦ complex environmental objectives and protection issues are addressed;
- ♦ employment, production, and profitability in dependent industries are strengthened; and
- ♦ a quality environment for all Oregonians is assured.

The Forest Research Laboratory, the Corvallis Forestry Sciences Laboratory of the U. S. Forest Service, the Environmental Laboratory of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the Forest and Rangeland Ecosystem Science Center of the Biological Resources Division of the U. S. Geological Survey, and related research conducted elsewhere on campus combine to form the largest concentration of forestry science research in North America.

Educational Opportunities Programs

Fall Term 1998

Oregon State University's Educational Opportunities Program (EOP) Department is designed to recruit to the university and assist in the retention of minority, disadvantaged, and disabled students who have traditionally been denied equal access to higher education. EOP serves those students who may or may not meet the current university admission requirements but are recognized as having the potential to successfully complete a college degree program.

The EOP recruits in Oregon communities which have concentrations of nontraditional students who are ethnic minority, older than average, first generation in college, low income, single parents, or students with a disability. Recruiting and referred students are assisted in gaining admission to the university. As a part of retention, students are provided information about available financial aid and given academic placement testing, access to developmental courses, tutoring, and counseling.

The College Assistance Migrant Program (CAMP) recruits and supports students from migrant and seasonal farmworker families during their freshman year at college. In addition to the services provided by the EOP, CAMP students may be eligible for a summer orientation program and supplemental financial aid. CAMP is a federally-funded program.

General Access and Departmental Computing Facilities 1998-99

Oregon State University is known for the extensive and sophisticated computing facilities it provides to students. Facilities range from supercomputers to multimedia labs and from word processing to computer-aided design, digital video, and CD multimedia development. Operating systems include MAC, Windows, Novell, Unix, and NT. Local area networks, fiber in the residence halls, and high-speed broadband networks expand students' computing capabilities. Add to this computers in labs, kiosks, networked workstations in the Cultural Centers, and networked printers in residence halls, and the opportunities at OSU far exceed those available in the typical university.

All students may use the Internet, and new students are given accounts automatically once they register for classes. The University offers an extensive array of workshops and courses to bring students up to speed on these new technologies, including training during the freshman seminar course. Training is also available for students of all majors who want on-campus employment assisting faculty and departments in developing Web pages.

Two central computers, both Digital 7000/620 AXP Open/VMS, support administrative computing. A Digital 2100 AXP OSF/1 computer is dedicated to general academic use. The latter is augmented by a variety of high-performance computers in the colleges.

Oregon State University Press 1997-98

Founded in 1961, the Oregon State University Press has made an important contribution to the intellectual and cultural life of Oregon and the Pacific Northwest by publishing scholarly books and serious books for the general reader. As Oregon's only university press and one of just five in the Northwest, our role becomes more important every year. Commercial publishing is increasingly dominated by entertainment conglomerates that focus on formula fiction, self-help books, celebrity biographies, and the like. Today serious and necessary books in many fields are likely to be published by a university press, or not published at all.

Like other university presses, the OSU Press publishes books of exceptional quality and importance. Some primarily serve scholars and scientists, but many appeal to general readers - especially those books dealing with the history, natural history, cultures, and literature of the Pacific Northwest or with natural resource issues. Were it not for the Oregon State University Press, most of these books would never be published.

OSU Portland Center

The OSU Portland Center is the home for Oregon State University services in the Portland metropolitan area. In carrying out this role, the Center provides services both to the public and to OSU faculty, staff, students and alumni.

For Oregon State's faculty and staff, the OSU Portland Center functions as a home base for activities in the Portland area. Faculty are constantly visiting Portland to maintain OSU's working relationships with the state's agricultural, forestry, and high-technology industries, and to strengthen its leadership in international trade and development. The OSU Portland Center serves as a home-away-from-home for such faculty, providing them with an office and rooms for meetings and small conferences.

For the public, the OSU Portland Center serves as an information center for prospective students and for citizens seeking Extension Service publications. It also provides a headquarters and activities center for OSU's 28,000 Portland-area alumni. The Center's meeting rooms support externally-focused activities of OSU's Alumni Association, Development Office, Beaver Club, and Distance and Continuing Education specialists.

The OSU Portland Center is in the Director Building on the southeast corner of S.W. 3rd and Yamhill. OSU II, a branch of the OSU Bookstore, is also located here and offers a large inventory of logo merchandise and gifts for OSU friends and alums.

OSU Hatfield Marine Science Center

The Hatfield Marine Science Center is the hub of Oregon State University's coastal research, teaching and marine extension activities. The public aquarium is a window to the ocean for about 300,000 visitors each year. Newport is home port for the National Science Foundation's 180-foot ship WECOMA, operated by the OSU College of Oceanic and Atmospheric Sciences.

The Center houses marine-related research projects of Oregon State University as well as the Coastal Oregon Marine Experiment Station, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's National Marine Fisheries Service and Pacific Marine Environmental Laboratory, Environmental Protection Agency, Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife, and U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The instructional program focuses on fishery biology, management and aquaculture, as well as marine biological aspects of tidal, estuarine and nearshore marine environments. At the Center, Extension Sea Grant work concentrates on programs of interest to the general public, as well as on marine education and fisheries. Oregon Sea Grant also funds competitive research projects which are conducted at the Center.

Renovation of the Public Wing of the Center was completed in 1997. New displays feature marine-related research conducted by Oregon State University and its cooperating agencies. Many displays are interactive and range in scope from global remote sensing down to the microscopic level. In May 1998, the Public Wing was officially dedicated by the federal government as a Coastal Ecosystem Learning Center.

OSU Security Services

The primary mission of Oregon State University Security Services is the protection and safety of persons, property, and buildings on campus. Security Services employs five full-time public safety officers, one public safety supervisor, four dispatchers, two records clerks, and one manager who provide comprehensive security services to the University community 24 hours a day. Services include regular patrols of buildings and grounds, crime prevention assistance and training, internal investigations, event security, animal control, and enforcement of University regulations. Officers respond to all incidents, building alarms, injuries, and fires. Security Services monitors fire, intrusion, and maintenance alarms on campus and through its dispatch center receives more than 25,000 calls for service annually.

Law enforcement on campus is provided by Oregon State Police. OSP officers respond to all criminal activity on campus, investigate accidents and criminal activity, conduct patrols of buildings and grounds, enforce state statute and traffic laws on campus, and work with Security Services to provide crime prevention assistance to staff and students through community policing.

IX. FOUNDATION AND ALUMNI

OSU Foundation Highlights

Fiscal Year 1997-98

The OSU Foundation is a nonprofit corporation that provides a legally sound, inclusive, charitable agency separate from, but working in close coordination with, the University. The Foundation receives gifts of cash, securities, real and personal property, and deferred gifts such as bequests, life insurance, and life income agreements, to support the University's programs.

Working in concert with the Foundation, OSU's development program builds relationships with individuals, corporations, and foundations, encouraging them to support the University with contributions of both time and financial resources. The staff also works with the campus community to develop fund-raising programs.

Significant Events of 1997-98

In 1997-98, due in part to large gains on investments, the OSU Foundation's revenue reached a record high of $82.2 million, bringing the Foundation's total assets to more than $334.8 million. The market value of its endowment grew by $50.5 million, to a total of $208.5 million.

With the completion of major construction projects including the Valley Football Center, the CH2M Hill Alumni Center, and the nearly completed expansion of The Valley Library, the Foundation's expenditures dropped by nearly 41 percent. Significant growth did occur, however, in spending on student awards and scholarships, with student aid reaching a record high of $5.5 million.

As the year closed, the Foundation moved ahead on a major realignment of its relationship to the University. After years of excellent service to OSU and the OSU Foundation, Executive Director John Irving announced his retirement. Preparatory to the search for a new leader, the Foundation initiated a collaborative process with President Risser and the University goals. The outcome of this process was a decision to combine all University fund raising under the direction of the Foundation.

Gifts to the OSU Foundation and the University in 1997-98 totaled $38.1 million. Nearly 30,000 donors made gifts or bequests. Among them:

- Alumnus Bernard Newcomb ('65) made the largest-ever securities gift to the OSU Foundation, 200,000 shares of stock totaling $6.1 million. The gift will fund 40 scholarships per year in the College of Business.
- The M.J. Murdock Charitable Trust gave $455,000 for an X-ray diffraction facility that will benefit numerous areas of the University.
- In memory of his late wife Betty, OSU Foundation Honorary Trustee Bob Lundeen pledged to match up to $20,000 per year against other gifts of $1,000 or more to the Achievement Awards, a campus-wide scholarship program that attracts top students to OSU.
- Carol and R. Barry Fisher of Newport made a deferred gift to establish an endowed professorship in marine fisheries at OSU's Coastal Marine Experiment Station.
- Sisters Frances Price and Gladys Barclay, with 95 years of 4-H leadership between them, created endowments that will fund awards for graduating 4-H high school students.

Salary rates - 12-month base annual salary rates have been converted to 9-month by dividing salary rate by 1.222222.

Tenured - those faculty holding indefinite tenure.

Years of service - calculated by subtracting the service anniversary date year from December 31, 1998.

Staff (Classified)

FTE - A numerical designator for an appointment based on 100% for full-time. A full-time classified for analysis purposes in the "OSU Fact Book", is .9 to 1.0 FTE.

Students

A special student status is given to those students who are not planning to complete degree requirements or who do not meet regular admission requirements.

Class standings

students with fewer than 45 hours of credit.

Sophomore

students with at least 45 hours of credit and fewer than 90 hours of credit.

Junior

FTE - Student FTE is calculated by dividing total student credit hours for a given class level by a constant. These constants by class level are:

● Undergraduate	15 credit hours
● Post-baccalaureate Non-graduate	15 credit hours
● Master	12 credit hours
● Doctoral	9 credit hours
● Post-baccalaureate Graduate	12 credit hours
● Doctor of Veterinary Medicine	1 headcount = 1 FTE
● Non-admitted Undergraduate	15 credit hours
● Non-admitted Graduate	12 credit hours

Grants and Proposals

Starting in FY 1994, the following changes were made in the database system:

- a. gifts were recorded as awards.
- b. a grant that corresponds to one proposal may be counted more than once if the grant has more than one transaction (e.g., is split between more than one department, etc.).

As a result, an accurate comparison between the Number of Grants and the Amount of Grants is not possible after this time. In addition, this has affected the ratio of the Number of Proposals to the Number of Grants.

OSU SEAL

The Oregon State University Seal was adopted by the State Agricultural College of Oregon Board of Regents on June 21, 1888. The seal is basically the same as the State of Oregon seal which was adopted in 1857 except that the legend which encircles the escutcheon, or shield, has been changed to "OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY...1868." In addition, the OSU seal uses a wreath of Oregon holly (Oregon grape) rather than the 33 stars used in the State of Oregon seal.

Originally, the seal was to be affixed to signify ownership and/or receipt of all official deeds, papers, and documents directed by the Board, and only in the presence of and signed by the President and Secretary of the Board of Regents (Article VIII, Board of Regents By-laws).

The elements in common with the State of Oregon seal include the following:

- a central escutcheon divided by an ordinary, or ribbon, with the inscription "The Union";
- above the legend, mountains, the seashore, pine trees (forests), an elk with branching antlers, and a covered emigrant wagon being pulled westward by two oxen;
- the Pacific Ocean, with a British man-of-war departing, signifying the departure of British influence in the region; an American merchant steamer arriving signifying the rise of American power and commerce; and the setting sun in the distant horizon (a westward view toward the Pacific Basin);
- below the ordinary, a quartering with a sheaf of grain (wheat), a plow, and a pickax, representing Oregon's mining and agricultural resources;
- the crest, the American (Bald) Eagle.
